

Presenter Robin Watts

Robin brings extensive experience to the course having worked as a child abuse investigator while a detective with the London Metropolitan Police. He trained police and social workers on how to investigate child abuse from initial referral to conclusion. His expertise has moved to safeguarding in schools, training and educating school staff and governors both internationally and in the UK for over a decade.

Provider RAW Training

Safeguarding and Child Protection (International) Levels 1 - 3 | Online

An accredited course where delegates will achieve the Level 3 Safeguarding and Child Protection (International) designation

Delegates will review the definition of both safeguarding and child protection, helping staff identify and safeguard the children they work with. Responsibilities of the child protection officer, as well as senior staff, governors, and proprietors will be outlined.

Policies and procedures will be discussed to make sure that your school does all it can, including what inspection bodies expect schools to have in place to safeguard children. This course will review how to complete a risk assessment as well as how to complete a safeguarding audit of schools.
