Comments/Description

Al Khor International School (AKIS) is a non-denominational and co-educational international school that offers the National Curriculum of England and the CBSE Curriculum of India to the children of RasGas (RG) and Qatargas (QG) employees - two of the largest natural gas producing companies in the world.

The school is ethnically diverse with approximately 4,500 students from 50 countries aged between 3 - 18 years.

AKIS employs over 500 staff across its academic, project management, central operations and finance departments.

In addition to academic studies, AKIS boasts a wide range of enrichment programmes and internationally recognised endorsements that see our students attending some of the world's most prestigious universities.
